

Policy Addressing Poverty

The participation in policymaking at local, regional, national, and global levels is essential for implementing effective strategies to eradicate poverty in all its dimensions. This engagement ensure that the voices of disadvantaged communities are heard and considered in decision-making processes. The Women University of Azad Jammu and Kashmir (WUAJ&K) Bagh is contributing to policymaking through several organizations, as follows:

Alkhidmat Foundation and Aghosh

The Alkhidmat Foundation Pakistan is a prominent charitable organization dedicated to the welfare of disadvantaged communities across the country. The foundation operates several programs (including Aghosh for orphans) throughout the country. Through its comprehensive approach, the Aghosh Alkhidmat Foundation is committed to making a meaningful impact and fostering sustainable development in Pakistan. A letter of support in policy making by faculty members of WUAJ&K is given in Annex. I.

Aljaza Foundation

Aljaza Welfare Organization is a regional NGO dedicated to supporting the education and welfare of individuals with disabilities in the district. With a strong focus on inclusivity, Aljaza provides essential resources and services aimed at empowering disabled persons through educational opportunities, vocational training, and community support. The faculty members and staff of WUAJ&K are actively engaged in the policy-making processes of the Aljaza Foundation, contributing their expertise and insights to enhance the organization's initiatives. They regularly visit the foundation, collaborating closely with the team to ensure that programs effectively address the needs of individuals with disabilities. (Annex. II)
