4.3.2. Public events (Lifelong Learning)

Women University of Azad Jammu & Kashmir (WUAJ&K), Bagh, organizes public events that promote lifelong learning, community awareness, knowledge sharing, and practical skill development beyond formal academic programmes. During 2025, the University conducted various educational and awareness activities involving students, faculty members, school children, and members of the wider community. A few examples of such public events are as follows:

1. Breast Cancer Awareness

Women University of Azad Jammu & Kashmir, Bagh, observed Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October through awareness activities, including a breast cancer awareness walk and seminar. The initiative aimed to educate students and community about breast cancer, its risk factors, early warning signs, the importance of regular screening, and the benefits of early detection. (Annex I)

2. Youth Leadership Development Lab: Leading Self before Leading Others

The Department of Education, Women University of Azad Jammu & Kashmir (WUAJK), Bagh, through its Youth Club, organized a leadership development activity titled “Leadership Lab – Leading Self Before Leading Others,” facilitated by Ms. Tahzeeb Mahreen, Lecturer, Department of Education. The activity brought together students from local schools and the university to provide an interactive learning opportunity focused on self-awareness, self-discipline, emotional intelligence and personal leadership development. The initiative aimed to extend the university's educational engagement to young learners from the surrounding community by providing them with exposure to structured leadership learning beyond their regular classroom experiences. 3. International Week of the Deaf: Promoting Inclusive Education, Deaf Awareness and Community Engagement

The Department of Education, Women University of Azad Jammu & Kashmir (WUAJK), Bagh, organized an awareness and community engagement activity on 27 September 2025 to mark International Week of the Deaf, in collaboration with Ali Empowerment Discovery Center of Special Education, Bagh, AJK. The event was organized by Ms. Samina Rafique, Lecturer, Department of Education, and brought together university representatives and children from the collaborating special education centre. The activity aimed to promote awareness about the deaf community, highlight the importance of inclusive education and accessible communication, and encourage greater understanding of the educational and social needs of deaf and hard-of-hearing children. Through this collaborative initiative, participants were sensitized to the importance of respect, equal learning opportunities, social inclusion and supportive educational environments for children with hearing disabilities.
